VITAMIN

01

Inositol: With the arrival of the aquaculture season, the market demand has increased recently. However, the production capacity of new factories has been released, the market supply is relatively sufficient, and the competition for inquiries is fierce. The price has dropped slightly compared with before. The current price of mainstream factories is USD 3.8-4.5/KG. The prices of several new factories are slightly lower, between USD3.5-3.8/KG. It is expected to maintain stable operation in the near future.

AMINO ACID

02

Valine: Domestic manufacturers and the trade market are weak in signing orders, and the actual price has slightly weakened, and some are slightly lower. At present, the supply of valine in the market exceeds demand, and the demand is weak. The actual orders signed by end users are light. Manufacturers are producing stably and paying attention to downstream demand. It is expected that the price of valine may continue to weaken in the near future.

API

03

The mainstream factories of Levamisole Hydrochloride have limited signing and quotation this week. The price has shown signs of bottoming out and rebounding recently. The market is actively inquiring and the market inventory is limited. It is expected that the price will soon be adjusted. Please pay attention. The current market price is around USDFOB38-39.5/KG.

Recently, the environmental impact assessment of the 250 tons/year high-end pharmaceutical intermediates and 3,000 tons/year creatine monohydrate construction project of Guizhou Hengyu New Materials Co., Ltd. was first publicized on the relevant website. The total investment of the project is 28 million yuan, and the construction content includes the construction of a new 100 tons/year ezetimibe and 150 tons/year 7-chloroquineline pharmaceutical intermediates, and a new 3,000 tons/year creatine monohydrate production line.

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Recently, the price of food additive xanthan gum has remained stable, and manufacturers have delivered goods normally. The transaction price of xanthan gum in the domestic market has stabilized at around FOB USD 3-3.2/KG. The product price has bottomed out in recent years, and it is predicted that the price may rise in the future.
